● MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, is on the C & O Railroad and the Midland Trail (U. S. 60), midway between Lexington and Ashland.

● MOREHEAD STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE has a setting of rare natural beauty. The modern Tudor-Gothic buildings follow a wide arc at the foot of a wooded mountain, their terraced lawns facing a broad boulevard which extends from Science Hall at one end of the campus to the level athletic field at the other.

● In the surrounding Cumberland National Forest the scenery is inspiring. The climate is mild and pleasant, with unusually cool summer nights.
